They have attended my international dialogues in the past year. made efforts to collect and record them and compiled the contents into this book. Readers will find that the rapid growth of the Internet and satellite television have made the world ever smaller; the public of different countries also pay more and more attention to how their own countries' international reputation influences their personal interests. In this sense, the public of different countries are no longer passive receivers of public diplomacy, but active participants. Today, the main body of public diplomacy is the social institutes and NGOs in economy, culture, education, science, media, sports, arts and religion.
