Paperback. Condition: New. 250 pages. Since the Zombie Riots and the Rot Syndrome holocaust, nature has recovered from the abuses of mankind and there is no more war. The worlds nations are at peace with one another. They have bigger fish to fry, believe you me, if they intend to recover the portion of the globe thats been lost to mankind. Ive collected within these pages certain accounts that have transpired whilst I was a zone raider in the employ of Captain Diego Armando Aragn, working in the quality of surveyor, as part of the salvage team of the ZRS Gayas Pride, a refurbished offshore patrol vessel licensed to sail into the Red Zone for salvage and rescue operations, under the United Nations Red Zone charter and the RSM protocols. Youll find herein the chronicles of my first expedition into Africa, which turned out to be the last trip Id make alongside the crew and company of the Gaya. If youve read any of my previous memoirs, then you may recall that I often mentioned man-eating mutant African beasts as the most vicious ones in the entire region between latitudes 55 north and 55 south, which we all affectionately know as the Red Zone. Youll also remember that Ive claimed that some of the worst fiends Ive ever met were not beasts, but regular folk like you and me. In this book youll see why. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
