He proposed no theory of government, no scheme for social betterment. Rather Jesus typified and advocated a way of life which He asserted we all could live if we would. Those of us who profess to follow Him may have formally accepted his teachings, yet today we find ourselves sometimes wondering either whether they are true or, if true, whether we are sufficiently intelligent to search out the way of life to which they seem to lead. Its purpose is to promote the fullest study and discussion of international, racial and industrial problems in the light of the spirit and teachings of Jesus. Both the Conference itself and the period of group study which is to precede it will be a wide-spread conferring together of people of the most varied experiences.
